Key information.

As we provide a wide range of products, from various suppliers across the UK, our fault fix times can differ depending on the products and services you we supply you.

We would always encourage our customers to log faults via our ticketing system, as this will provide you with the best response/resolution times. That said, we have a technical team that are more than happy to support you via the telephone if you would prefer that method of communication.

Reporting a fault via telephone.

Our phone lines are open between 8:30am and 5:00pm, Monday - Friday. Outside of our office opening times, you can still contact us via the telephone, but you'll be diverted to our out of hours team and therefore the answering time may slightly increase.

If you are reporting a fault via the telephone, our Technical Team will do their utmost to deal with your enquiry right there and then. Our statistics show that 58.2% of customer requests are dealt with over the phone at the first time of asking.

If your enquiry requires further investigation by the Technical Team, a service ticket will be logged and your request will be given a priority level. It'll be allocated either priority 1, 2 or 3, dependent on the severity of the fault. You'll be made aware of the priority level during the call.
